AMBITIOUS TERRITORIES.

The following well written editorial is from the New York Mail and Express and although it antedated several days our criminal charges against James Adthe miserable action of the committee on territories, it most certainly in the last paragraph voiced their individual opinions. Arizona as may be noted is conceededly emitted to the rights and privileges of statehood but these rights, while admittedly great, are ignored in the interests of eastern capitalists. The fear of increasing the silver representation determined the action of the committee and following the advice of Wall street, the territories are denied the right of admission to stateboad.

If the people of Arizous, New Mexico and Oklahoma could have their way, there would be three new states added to the union, making a total of forty-eight. This is a laudable ambition on their part, but it does not follow that it should be hastily gratified. Still, they have the state of t have earnest advocates, even independ-ent of the three territorial delegates representing these aspirants for statebood. Bills have been introduced providing for their admission, and their friends and representatives are actively push-ing their claims before the committee

ing their claims before the committee on territories, in order to secure an early and, if plesible, favorable report. It will remembered that a bill to admit New Mexico to the union was passed by the house of representatives July 28, 1884, but that no action was taken on it by the senate. A similar bill was passed by the house December 15, 1893, to admit Arizona, and it likewise failed. to admit Arizons, and it likewise failed of action in the senate. A statchood convention was held in Oklahoma on December 4 last for the expression of the popular sentiment throughout the territory on this question. It is needless to say that the people are a unit, both as to the desirability of admission as a state and as to their eligibility to statehood. The same feeling has pre-vailed for years in Arizona and New

It is clear that if these territories ar United States; its population is 77,000 exclusive of Indians, and its assessed valuation of taxable property is $27,518,332.49. New Mexico bas an area of 332.49. New Mexico has an area of 122.580 square miles; a population of 185,000 and an assessed valuation of taxable property of about $20,000,000. These figures do not represent, in any way, the vast and practically incalculable resources of these enormous terripolaries. that of most, if not all, of the recently simitted states. But there are of considerations which are worthy of at-

One of the principal objections to an immediate admission of these territories is that it would increase by six votes the free coinage contingent in the senate, to say nothing of the three full fledged congressmen of the same stripe. This is a serious reflection, and in rich stripe. serious reflection, and, in view of the present pernicious activity and influence of the free silver senators, it is sufficient to call for great caution and deliberation in the determination of this proposition It is a well-known fact that the free sil ver strength would today be unimport-ant but t for the twelve added senatorial votes by the recent admission of North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, and Utah. It behooves us to go slow in this matter.

THE three territories will have eightteen representatives in the national republican nominating convention. If they stand together and vote as one they can beyond presdventure do much towards naming the next president. That they will not forget their friends por forgive their enemies is human.

THE pops appear to be at sea as to the place of holding their naxt convention. There is no struggle of the big cities for a doubtful honor and no interest taken as to the date when it will be held. The committee in charge appear to be well aware of this fact and the future program of the party is still in

THE action of the house committee or territories is a bitter disappointment to Arizonans. Ali along we had been led to believe that the committee was favorable to the admission of the territories and action to that end was anticipated. That it should have been otherwise it deeply humilisting to all. Arizons on this proposition will be heard from in June.

THE PERALTA-REAVIS CASE. The Santa Fe New Mexican has taken the measure of J. A. Reavis, the greatest bunco steerer of the Nineteenth century. It is herewith appended: The United States grand jury in this city has for several weeks been patiently and exhaustively investigating the varidison Peralts-Renvis, upon one of which he is now held a prisoner in this city, growing out of his laborious and marvelous effort to establish a purely fictitions claim to some 13,000,000 of the fairest acres in Arizona, valued in round numbers at the colossal sum of $100,000, 000. This investigation has finally been fruitful of indictments against Peralts-Reavis, formally and distinctly charging him, among other offenses, with uttering forgeries, presenting fraudulent claim-, procuring witnesses to commit perjury and conspiracy to defraud. Peralta-Reavis is given to the free indulgence in loose, misleading, muchievous and often slanderous talk. His confidence in the cunning of his tongue eems to be second only to his faith in his undeniable talent for clothing fictions with the garments usually worn by facts. At the time the United States court of private land claims was created by congress he plausibly represented to his numerous dupes, chiefly residents in California, that the confirmation of his pretended grant was the real purpose of the court; he next boldly proclaimed that, according to promise, the court had actually been so constituted as to render the confirmation of his so-called grant a certainty, more than hinting that the judges thereof were his willing creatures; and now, with his amazing structure of fabrications a shapeless mass of rains at his feet as a result of the able, honest and untiring labors of the United States prosecuting officers and the righteous decree of the court he had insultingly alluded to as composed of his creatures, he has the unblushing audacity to explain to be thwarted in their ambition in this direction, their opponents will have to rely on some more formidable objections than those relating to area, wealth and population. The area of Oklahoma is 39,030 square miles. Its population is 275,000, and its assessed valuation of tarable property is $30,000,000. Arizona has an area of 113,020 square miles, being the sixth largest political division in the United States; its population is 77,000 to be thwarted in their ambition in this the total downfall of his vast pretensions wearing the prosecution robes and judicial ermine of the United States.

This sort of unserupulous talk, evi dently intended more for the ears of his deluded victime than for the general public, destroys such claims for sympsthy as sentimental people might otherwise have set up in his behalf. It proves torial empires. In all natural respects him to be a wicked and infamous sland-their eligibility to statebood exceeds are rather than the believe erer rather than the belpless creature of hallucination. It goes far toward establishing the very worst that has ever been said or thought about him. The United States court of private land claims and the able attorney appointed to protect the interests of the government before that upright and learned from the brutal abuse of this disappointed and malignant old man. Poor Indeed!

There are degrees and kinds of pover ty, just as there are differences of opin-ion among those who compute and measure poverty and riches by different standards. Some men deem themselves poor because they are less rich than others, again there are comparatively poor people who are satisfied with a competence. There is a kind of poverty for which no amount of wealth can com pensate, namely a poverty of bodily stamina, evinced by nervousness and a derangement of the functions of diges-tion, bilious secretion and the bowels. To restore vigor upon a permanent basis there is one remedy that fully covers the requirements, "fills the bill," and this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By restoring digestion, giving a healthful impulse to the action of the bowels and liver and tranquilizing the nerves, it fulfills the condition necessary to a resumption of strength by the system. It also overcomes neuralgia and rheumat-

Just after the war of 1776 an Ameri an frigate visited England. Her crew of gallant tare had been principally recruited from the fisheries, and some of them, it is to be acknowledged, did not compare favorably in appearance with the spick-and-span, jauuty English naval seamen, for the former were of all shapes and sizes, from the tall, short round-shouldered, long armed Cape Coder, down to the short wiry members of the ship's company who hailed from various ports farther south, where less brawn was to be found.

One day the captain of the American ship paid a visit to the commander of a British man-o'-war at anchor in the same harbor. The coxewain of the gig was a great lanky seaman, whose back bone was so rounded as to form a veritable hump. While the boat rested at the gangway of the visited vessel the English sailors gathered in the open ports and "took stock," in a rather dis-dainful fashion, of the occupants of the gig. At last one of the seamen on board he man-o'-war called down to the cox-

Great Britain and Venezuela Requested to Submit to Evidence.

THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

No Answer Has Been Received From Either of the Governments as Yet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21-At a meeting of the Venezuelan commission the fact was made known that a letter had been directed to the secretary of state by the the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela for proofs in support of their respective positions in the boundary dispute. Secretary Olney acknowledged the receipts of this letter and stated he had carried out the wishes of the commission, but up to today's meeting no answer had been received from either of the governments. The commission selected Mr. S. Mallatt Prevost, a well known New York lawyer who recently successfully conducted the governments' case against Peralta Reavis, as its secretary, and also chose a corps of assistants.

The commission invited the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela to submit to it all the evidence in their possession to further the work of the commission, to be represented before it by attorneys and all this with the reser-onfident of a favorable response from both parties to the boundary controversy although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is counched and wide latitude of the reservation permitted each party that may respond to the open spirit which characterizes the invitation leads to a natural hope that it will be leads to a natural hope that it will be accepted.

Meantime the commission will proceed on the original line of inquiry, which promises to be a slow and difficult task, trusting to an abridgement of the proceedings later on by the production of evidence by both parties and the appearance of attorneys, when proceedings may at once take on the form of a judicial trial, and the attainment of a conclusion be correspondingly hastened.

Today's meeting took place for the first time in the new quarters of the commission at the Baltimore Sun building on F street.

Mr. Whitemore of Ithacs, N. Y. was selected as one of the stenographers and Walter Mouthrup of the District of Columbia as a messenger. A few other apumbia as a messenger. A few other ap-pointments will be made hereafter as need appears.

It was ordered that the rooms of the commission be kept open every week day from 9 until 5 o'clock and any per-son who has any suggestions to make will be accorded an opportunity. Every Friday there will be a meeting of the full commission.

Each member has been allotted a particular line of inquiry. Mr. White has been charged with the preparation of a sort of abstract of title. Mr. Gilman has undertaken the preparation of maps and charts.

Adjourned until Friday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22-About 100 silver men were present at today's conference under the auspices of the American Bimetallic league. General A. J. Warner, in calling the conference to order, said the time had come for action. There was no hope of winning the fight in detachments in side organizations controlled by gold standard men. "Gold," he said, "was written on the walls of the inner temples of both the old parties, and it could be obliterated only by tearing down these walls. This conference was called to deliberate upon the present situation of the country and decide upon the policy to be pursued by the friends of bimetallism. It was expected that an agreement would be reached on the time and place for a
